Amapola Has Party

Wednesday evening March 3, the members of the Amapola Club enjoyed an "innog" in the Household Arts Building. An outing up Poly Canyon had been planned but due to the rainy weather they found it convenient to remain indoors.

Their feminine courage undaunted, they set to work to make the affair a jolly one. Floretta Tardif, who was in charge of the refreshments, with her committee, Mary Hughes, Ynez Hughston, Ynez Bickford and Doris Westendorf, repaired to the dim recesses of the kitchen to be heard from later.

The remainder of the party turned to old-fashioned dancing for amusement. The schottische was attempted and mastered by a few. A Virginia reel was gone through in surprisingly good form. Ynez Bickford then called a Paul Jones and the success with which this went off is proof that it is not the girls who make such a mess of these dances at the Dining Hall.

"Chow" was then sounded and the party ascended to the second floor. There the cooks served broiled weenies, salad, relishes, cake, marshmallows, and coffee. Everything was the perfection of the culinary art and those noted cooks of the Block "P" would have to step some to beat it.

A clean-up committee was appointed and functioned properly. The party then broke up. For further information as to the sport of playing hide-and-go-seek around the palm trees in the rain see Mary Hughes, and the two Ynezes.

Students Hear Dr. Barker

On March 8 the combined student bodies of the High School and Polytechnic had the pleasure of listening to an address on "How to Make a Success of Life," delivered by Dr. Chas. Barker. Dr. Barker was president Taft's physician while in office.

As the basis of his speech Dr. Barker quoted a line from a speech delivered by President Garfield shortly after his nomination. He stated that "a strong arm, a clear head, and a brave heart" were the three greatest essentials in making a success of life.

Taking each of these requisites separately Dr. Barker delivered a speech that will be long remembered by those who heard him. He explained that a strong arm signified a healthy body in general. He cited Theodore Roosevelt as an example of a weakly child who, by rigorously practicing exercises (humorously illustrated by the speaker) overcame physical weaknesses and entered college the most nearly perfect specimen of manhood ever to take the examination. In dealing with the "clear head" he approached the subject in which we as students are supposed to be vitally interested, namely, education. According to the very amusing illustration of modern youth studying delivered by Dr. Barker, "getting educated" is one of the least worries of students, it being considered more as a favor granted by them to the authorities inasmuch as they condescend to attend school—most of the time—rather than a benefit to themselves. In discussing the "brave heart" Dr. Barker spoke in a manner which no person who heard him will forget. In the afternoon Dr. Barker addressed the girls and in the evening

"Pickles" Presented

The school operetta "Pickles" was very successfully presented to almost a full house at the Elmo Theater, Thursday evening, March 11. The enthusiastic reception of the production was gratifying, as were also the gate receipts, from which it is thought that about $300 will be realized. The costumes and scenery added a great deal to the efforts of the students in making the affair successful.

The entire cast acquitted themselves admirably. Eric Hughston as Hans, the old innkeeper, delivered his many clever lines well and earned the generous praise given by the audience. Ynez Hughston as Louisa, the Dutch waitress, did some of the cleverest acting of the production and was very well received. Wilbur Miller, as the pompous chief of police, was one of the encouraging lights of the practices and aided by his gorgeous costume he more than justified the faith placed in him. Fred Louis and Jimmie Simpson as Rumski and Bumski, furnished "fun for the folk" and were well fitted to their parts. Jack Babcock as the advertising expert and brilliant hero of the play played his part so naturally that he "had" the audience from the very start. Albert Hankerson, as Jigo, had one of the best costumes and make-ups in the play and his fine voice pleased the entire audience. Ruth Smith as the gypsy dancing girl was even better than her excellent practices have prophesied, her fine voice and dancing proving very attractive. Robert Steiner, the disheartened artist, was somewhat of a surprise to all of us. All along he has kept us in the dark concerning his real intentions toward Shirley, but Thursday evening he put it over big! Shirley was a little sweeter than usual as the young heiress and made a great appeal to everyone. Ervin MacMillan, as the retired pickle prince, upheld the dignity of the play with his fine portrayal of an elderly gentleman. Evelyn Johnson was charming in her part of the English widow and carried it off with great success. The choruses manfully rose to the occasion and were much better than the practices had allowed one to hope for.

A great deal of credit is deserved by the committees who worked to make the operetta the success that it was. Among those to be mentioned are the costume committee, in charge of Miss Knox; the stage and property committee, in charge of Mr. Glenn and assisted by Mr. Knott; the advertising and sales committee, in charge of Belle Tomasini.

To Mrs. Fuller, in particular, does a great deal of credit belong for her very able direction of the production and her untiring efforts in its behalf. Also do the students wish to express their appreciation to Mrs. Brown, the members of our orchestra and to Mr. Ray Howell, Mr. L. J. Defossset, Mr. G. B. Brown and our own Mr. Merritt Smith whose work in the orchestra made the musical part of the operetta so attractive.

On the whole the school has good reason to be proud of its operetta and it is only hoped that the school play will be as successful.

he spoke to the boys. All of his speeches were well received and appreciated, not the least of the attractive features of his addresses being his thorough understanding of human nature.

In Memoriam

CAYETANO AMIEVA

The student body of the California Polytechnic wishes to pay a last tribute to the memory of its lately deceased member, Cayetano Amieva.

Cayetano entered the school last year in the agricultural course. He came here from Mexico City on the advice of his foster-brother Vincente Jimenez, who was then a member of the student body. He was an earnest and excellent student, although handicapped by his limited knowledge of English. As a fellow student he was quiet and sincere, and those who knew him liked and respected him.

While here he suffered from a slight deafness. This trouble developed until an operation was deemed necessary. He left here February 28 for Lane's Hospital, San Francisco, where a mastoid operation was performed, March 1. He passed successfully through the operation and was apparently on the way to recovery when a relapse occurred from which he did not recover. He died March 5 and was buried in the Cemetery of the Holy Cross, San Francisco.

GEORGE CROWELL

The older members of the student body and those who are now alumni will be grieved to hear of the death of George Crowell.

George entered the school in 1923 and attended for about a year and a half until illness made it advisable for him to discontinue his studies here. While here he made friends with everyone and entered wholeheartedly into the activities of the campus. He is a well remembered yell-leader and many of the town-people as well as the students will long remember him for the excellent part he played in our 1923 play, "The Tailor-Made Man." Long after leaving the school he maintained his interest in its activities and expressed his hope of returning.

A few weeks ago he developed pneumonia and died leaving many memories in the hearts of his friends.

JOE ROSA

Joe Rosa, another member of the student body of years past, died in Los Gatos a short while back. He was a resident of this city and entered the school in 1920 and attended for a year then discontinuing his studies to take up work in town. He greatly appreciated his work at school and after leaving often expressed the desire to return and complete his course.

Rifle Shoot

The Juniors and Frosh have completed their shoot towards the inter-class trophy. The Frosh have the highest score so far with a score of 466 out of a possible 700. The Juniors finished their shoot with a score of 428 out of 700.

The Seniors and Sophomores will have their shoot Saturday.

Mr. Agosti (in chem.): Name three articles that contain starch.

Roy Bradley: Two cuffs, and a collar.

Honor Roll

The honor roll for the past six weeks was officially announced in Assembly on Wednesday, the 17th.

Miss Chase expressed her disappointment because this quarter's honor roll is somewhat smaller than any of the preceding honor rolls. She was very glad, however, that thirteen people who were in the operetta were on this honor roll and five of these had quite heavy parts.

Block "P" Barbecue

The Block "P" Club held its first barbecue this year up Poly Canyon on March 1. All members were present and everyone had a very good time.

The eats consisted of barbecued meat, buns, coffee, ice cream, and pie. The feed was prepared very well by Read, Miller, and Langenbeck.

After the feed, the bunch collected around the fire to tell stories. There weren't very many yarns told, so someone suggested we revert to our kid days and play hide and seek. Coach Agosti was the first one "it" and he proved he had an eagle eye even in the dark. Many casualties were suffered by the boys stubbing their toes on rocks, etc. Pete Traver tried to break a barbed wire fence but the only thing he did was tear half his sleeve off. Hank received a kick on the head as he was crawling out from under a table, and Lumley got stuck underneath one of the Fords. He finally managed to get loose though.

Lumley was tied up until the rest were through and then he was turned loose. After he got through a fly couldn't even get a smell. He actually ate seven dishes of ice cream. The reason he didn't eat any more was the fact that it was all gone.

Outside of the few mishaps already mentioned the club had a very enjoyable time and is planning on having another feed in the near future.

Special Assembly

A special assembly was held March 12 for the purpose of catching up several matters of importance to the student body.

Dr. Crandall took charge of the assembly and requested the students to rise for a moment of silent tribute to the memories of Donald Sousa, of the class of '29, and Cayetano Amieva, of the class of '28, and to express their sympathy to Irvin Stocking on account of the death of his mother.

Dr. Crandall expressed the appreciation of both Dr. Barker's speech and the operetta for himself and the student body.

The assembly was then turned over to announcements, of which there were many. At the close of the period Fred Louis led in the singing of the school song which was enjoyed more than usual.

Our motto: If you can't laugh at the jokes of the age, then laugh at the age of the jokes.

CLASS SPIRIT

School spirit is something that is talked about all the time and everyone should have it, but to have real school spirit it is necessary that the whole Student Body have class spirit also.

Class spirit can be listed under two heads, namely, classroom spirit and the spirit of a whole class—e. g., Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen.

Under the head of classroom spirit we have the item of fair play. That is, fair play to your classmates, teachers and yourself. The first courtesy you should show towards your classmates is to let them recite when called upon and you recite when your turn comes. In other words, wait your turn. You will be better liked by your fellow classmates if you observe this rule, and besides this, you should be fair to yourself and your teacher. If you are being given an examination and it is necessary for the instructor to leave the room, be honest with him. If you cheat you are only injuring yourself and you will suffer for it. If he should leave a student in charge you should obey him, and not be antagonistic towards him. If you are disobedient you show that you have no pride. When you are old enough to go to high school it is your duty to have honor and pride enough to be fair to everyone.

Now comes the idea of class spirit as related to Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen. The idea of having classes like this is to promote good fellowship among the students. It is a student's duty to attend all his class meetings, social functions and to take any responsibilities that should be his as a member of his class. When you are called upon to do something, do it. Don't leave it for the other fellow. There is too much of this sort of thing going on and the sooner it is stopped, the sooner we will have peppy classes. Attend your class meetings, too; they wouldn't be called if there wasn't a purpose and it is your duty to see what the purpose is. Don't pay your dues at the first of the year and then forget you ever belonged to a class. Get in and help in your inter-class athletics, class dances and parties and your class assemblies. You will be raising your prestige in the eyes of your classmates and teachers if you show real class spirit. Then school spirit will follow naturally if you have real class spirit.

Thanks To Rotary Club

In behalf of the Student Body of the California Polytechnic, I wish to thank the Rotary Club of San Luis Obispo for making it possible for us to hear Dr. Charles E. Barker deliver his valuable address.

I feel that the message that Dr. Barker delivered was greatly appreciated by the Student Body and many have spoken to me of the benefit derived from the address.

The statement that impressed me most in his speech was this: "To get an education we must train our mind and will to do the things we should at the time it should be done." This statement is brimful of truth and the sooner everyone learns to do it, the better it will be for them.

The outstanding characteristic of Dr. Barker's speech was his knack of getting to the point and telling the absolute truth. The truth is what youth wants and Dr. Barker satisfied them.

Wilbur C. Miller.

POLY CHATTER

Look in Ynez H.'s Spanish book, and find out why girls leave home.

One would think that this school was a Kindergarten the way you see all day suckers in everybody's mouth at noon time.

Here's a tip for all the Poly boys who are not planning to attend Poly next year. A number of cute Hi-school Co-eds are going to be Co-eds at Poly next year; so there might be a chance for some of the fellows who are bachelors.

Has Leo Earle had a fight with some girl? We were just wondering as he always plays "ANGRY" when he sits down at the piano.

We notice that a certain faculty member took the hint about not picking up any Polyites and giving them a ride to school. Last Tuesday he was seen picking up some little Freshman and bringing him to school in his Ford.

Al Hedstrom and Avalyn Schlicht were sure shaking a wicked foot at noon time last Tuesday.

Buddle Poynter is certainly madly in love with some certain Poly Co-ed.

Bill Lee is like a lost wolf now that Mary is being a good girl and observing Lent.

Ask Bill Lee why he is so anxious for six weeks to elapse.

It is said that the Ag Club is going to be enlarged as the three new female gardeners are planning to join. What do you say about it, Ags?

Now that Kenneth McIntire has lost Arlene, he is seen bringing the sweet Aumaler sisters to school in his li'l racer.

We hear that Watson is going to be in the next golf tournament at the local golf links. Now watch out, folks, he might make it in par or even less.

We all notice how Grace S. has quieted down since the "HOW ABOUT IT GRACE" appeared in the Scandal sheet.

A hikers club is being organized by two of the students at large. Only last Thursday several members made "fast" time on one of the highways leading into the city. Anyone wishing to join the club please apply to Louis Thorpe or Eddie Speers and????

It is rumored that there is some blond girl here at Poly that is trying to rob the cradle.

Ask Speers and Henry what other houses they visit besides the one on Pismo St. on their bicycles every few nights. They certainly do make the rounds.

We think the buildings out here have enough decoration without a couple of girls sitting in the windows, as was seen the other day after school at the Amapola party.

Where is Al Young these days; he had better watch out for his little Rae, as she has at last succeeded in vamping our little southern boy "Jimmie."

The boys think that although there are four girls taking gardening, there should be only three, the other one should work in a beauty shoppe.

Dorm Doings

Ciro Barbaria and Sammy Weir indulged in a serious battle the other evening in the Dorm. Sammy got a black eye. In the end, the boys shook hands, and now everything is O. K.

Boys have taken to sword fighting. Barboa and Menendez are the champs.

One dozen new cues arrived in the Dorm. A new cover and new cushions have been ordered.

John Pfeiffer has taken up agriculture again. He is now assistant gardener.

Saturday, Feb. 27, was a great day. The boys went up Poly Canyon in the school truck, and commenced work on a dam, which will hold back water, and form a pool about fifteen feet deep and long enough for a good swim. Work was resumed Sunday but not with the same number of boys to help. C'm'on in, boys the water's fine.

Jensen, our Petaluma sheik, picked a fight with our boxing champ, George Sparks. Sparks hit him any time he cared and any place he wished. Sparks won easily. Who's next?

L. Henry arrived in the Dorm. He seems to have quite a wardrobe as he hasn't as yet worn the same pair of trousers two days in succession.

Kenneth Krames was seen in company with two high school girls a couple of weeks ago. Watch your step, Kenneth.

Track season is here! Most of the boys are so sore they have to fall out of bed in the morning. We pity those who sleep in the top bunk.

Cheer up, Willie, there are about two more weeks and Lent will be over. What then?

George Sparks has at last found a girl, I mean the girl has found him. This girl had better watch out as there is some other Poly co-ed that has had her eye on George for a long time.

What was the attraction for the High School girls at the inter-class track meet last Friday afternoon? Don't they have track meets at HI? We noticed that after walking out here they certainly enjoyed the "events" of the day.

As you all know the girls have only one small mirror in the basement, which makes it very inconvenient on account of the number of girls there are. There is one girl that continually stands in front of the mirror and admires herself. Don't forget that there are other girls that would like to see as well as you do, that their powder is on straight.

Agent: Don't you want your office furnishings insured against theft?
 Manager: Yes, all except the clock; everyone watches that.

OUR SCHOOL HISTORY

For the benefit of the new students and those members of the student body who have never taken the opportunity of reading up on the history of the school, and with the hope that they will prove of interest to the readers, these facts have been taken from the school scrap book.

The California Polytechnic School was conceived and aided in its origination by Myron Angel, a resident of this county. Mr. Angel was the first and one of the most ardent boosters of the school and to him is owed a great deal of gratitude.

In 1897, he introduced into the legislature a bill for the founding of a state school in this vicinity. The bill failed and was introduced again in 1899, when it again was defeated. At this time the school gained another valuable friend in the person of Mr. Warren M. John, who introduced the bill once more to the assembly in 1901. After a hard fought battle in which Mr. John, Mr. Angel, Mr. Brooks, Mr. Shipsey, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Fitzgerald all participated, the bill was passed and signed by the governor January 31, 1902.

The bill provided $50,000 for the construction of a school where "young men and women may receive mental and manual training in the arts and sciences, including agriculture, mechanics, engineering, business methods, domestic economy and such other branches as will fit the student for the non-professional walks of life."

The school was to be managed by a board of trustees to be appointed and headed by the governor. The first duty of this board was to purchase a site for the school. Aided by the power which the Southern Pacific wielded as a factor, San Luis Obispo was chosen for the site and the board of trustees received a deed for 280 acres of land about three-fourths of a mile north of town on May 26, 1902. The board also at this time selected Leroy Anderson, a young graduate of Cornell, as the first director of the institution.

Building operations were begun early in 1903. Two were at first all that appropriations would allow for. These were the Administration Building, then used for official purposes, class rooms and laboratories, and the present Science Hall, which was then a Dormitory with accommodations for about thirty, and the Creamery in the basement.

The cornerstone of the Administration Building was laid January 31, 1903. The Masonic Lodge had charge of the ceremonies and the occasion was hailed as one of historical importance to the community. On October 1, 1903, the school opened for registration and then began its struggle for larger enrollments and bigger appropriations.

The school had three other faculty members besides Mr. Anderson and an enrollment of fifteen students. The agriculture and home-making courses were featured at first, the mechanical course coming into prominence a short time later when an increased budget allowed for the installation of the expensive machinery.

In 1905 President Roosevelt passed through here and was entertained at the Ramona Hotel. He voiced his pleasure at finding the State Polytechnic here and highly praised the vocational standard that it was built to give to the people.

In 1904 an appropriation of $116,180 made it possible to extend the school along many lines. Shops and the dairy barns were added and other branches enlarged. It was at this early period that the sobriquet of "Tech" which is still used at times in connection with the school, began to be attached to it. Also this year the students entered into their first competition with other schools and won! The members of the student body bested the High School students in the first of a series of debates.

In 1906 the first class was graduated from the school. Also in this year the Household Arts Building was added. From this time on the school settled into that state of level enrollment and moderate progress from which it has but recently departed.

The following years were years of struggles in every branch. There were struggles for appropriations, struggles for enlarged student bodies, struggles in competition with other schools and struggles everywhere which met with varying measures of success.

In 1907 we were granted an appropriation of $100,000 and with this were able to increase the much needed mechanical course. This year noted the first change in administration. Mr. Anderson accepted a position on the faculty of the University of California and was replaced here by Mr. Leroy B. Smith.

In the following year the first Poly play was produced. "The Merchant of Venice" was put on at the Civic Auditorium by the members of the Junior Class and met with worthy success. Also this year witnessed the planting of the palm trees which now beautify the drive and furnish shade for the boys.

By this time the Farmer's Picnic or Day had become an annual affair and was greeted each year as the event of the year, both by the school and the country people. These picnics were much bigger and better attended than they are now, which is really to be regretted, as there is a great deal of good to be derived from them by both the school and its guests.

Up until 1911 the athletics clippings dealt entirely with basketball and baseball, but at this time we have record of a game of football between Santa Barbara and Poly, which was not finished due to the serious injuries received by one of the players, and which closed with a score of 3-0 in Poly's favor.

In 1913 the Farmer's Picnic was made one of the greatest successes of its kind. Those attending were treated to an electrical illumination such as had never been heard of in this country. The shops each bore an electrical design on its roof which portrayed the work done there. Thus the Forge Shop had an anvil, the Machine Shop had an engine with a revolving wheel, etc. The buildings were connected by lighted arches bearing fitting inscriptions. A pageant depicting the history of the school and a little of the history of the county was given at this picnic.

At this time the second change in administration was made, Col. R. W. Ryder taking charge in the year 1913.

The year 1915 is a proud one in the history of the school for in that year we took the gold medal for the finest educational display in the exposition at San Diego. This, in spite of the fact that we entered into competition with the Smithsonian Institute, the Los Angeles and the San Diego Polytechnics.

In spite of this the opposition to the school seemed very strong this year and there was talk of removing it to Fresno.

The Polytechnic band was first heard from at this time and we now find the first mention of the Amapola Club.

In 1916 the Polygram started. Up until this time the school had published journals annually or by semesters but the Polygram was the first attempt at a paper.

More opposition to the school was brought up at this time and there was a great deal of discussion of closing the S. L. H. S. because of the uselessness of having two schools of the supposed high school type and the hopelessness of getting Poly to discontinue herself.

An article dated in this year records the purchase of a new "movie" machine and we wonder if it is the same one that still delights the student body.

During the war time the school was actively engaged in public activities of the period. There were seventy-nine enlistments from Poly and other activities were handled in the same proportion. During this time the northern section of the farm was purchased, adding about 627 acres.

In 1921 Nicholas Ricciardi assumed the directorship of the school and under him the first movement was made for the great progress which was to follow. He served the school for two years and a half, and then took a position in state vocational work. Miss

Older Boys' Conference

The conference opened at 12:30 p. m. Saturday, with a banquet in the cafeteria of the Santa Barbara High School. Over two hundred boys from Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo Counties heartily enjoyed this dinner. During the banquet we had good music from the Santa Barbara Hi-Y orchestra, and yells from the different delegations. We were served "great and gumborous quantities of the nutritious element" by the girls of the S. B. U. H. S., and certainly none of us, except Chet, who missed his pie and ice cream, had any kicks coming as to the manner in which we were served.

A number of talks were given by different boys. All these talks had direct bearing upon the theme of the conference, which was "The Highway."

Dr. Crandall gave the main address at this banquet. His subject being "Subway or Highway." There are two ways in life which we can follow, the high-way or the low-way. If we follow the Great Guide Book we cannot help but take the high-way. Many boys have lost sight of the high-way. One of the reasons may be that they watch the clock too much and quit work a little before time; but that's a habit we can change. Fellows, do more than you are paid for. Be honest, don't do anything dishonest in youth for you are liable to make a habit that will take you the low-way. Don't be satisfied with yourself. Set a goal so high you can never reach it, but always strive toward it.

From the banquet we adjourned into the immense assembly hall of the High School where we listened to two wonderful talks by Rev. Fred. B. Trotter, a World War "sky pilot" and by C. E. Marrow of Orange.

Fred Trotter told us to think a thing through for ourselves. If there were any questions that were bothering us we could ask him and he would try to answer them. One of the questions asked was, "Is smoking a sin?" Then he gave us the definition of sin from the Bible, "Sin is missing the mark." If smoking keeps us from hitting the mark it's a sin, that is, if we don't quite come up to the goal it's a sin. He left us to decide the question for ourselves.

We also discussed the question of dancing and finally came to the conclusion that if dancing is carried on as it should be, and in the right environment, it is all right, but if not, it absolutely is not right.

C. E. Marrow, who has charge of Y. M. C. A. work down in Orange, talked to us on the subject of "Bridges to Cross." We have many bridges to cross and if we don't cross them we can't be men. The talk dealt, to a great extent, with boys' dealings with girls and the way we should treat them. He also told us how we might Chase, the vice-president of the institution, directed it until Dr. Crandall was appointed and assumed office.

In 1923 came the greatest crisis in the affairs of the school when the school was not granted a sufficient budget to run on and it looked for a time as though it could not survive.

The situation was corrected and from an unfavorable attitude the legislature has turned to a most favorable one, granting us needed improvements in the form of our new gymnasium and promising us more money for the progress of the school.

Most of the opposition to the school seems to have arisen from misconceptions of the purpose of the school. Many class it in the high school class and as such deem it an unnecessary expense. When investigation shows to these people the true work of the school, the type of students who are educated here and the idea of vocational education is explained, their opposition is usually withdrawn and they become staunch supporters of the school.

From the very time of its origination down to the present there have been long articles in favor of and against the school. Some of the reports have been very bitter, some most complimentary, but it is a pleasure, and a profitable one, to glance through the old scrap book and see what the world at large thinks of our institution.

RAE MAYHALL, '25.

To Los Angeles

Jack Rollins, a well known member of the class of '29 has left Poly and is now attending high school in Los Angeles.

Jack was a very good student and many were sorry to see him leave. He was assistant sport editor on the Polygram staff and will be missed by them.

We all wish Jack the best of success in his new school and we know that he will always remember his short stay here.

take better care of our own bodies. It's up to us whether we make men out of ourselves or not. Certainly nobody else can make men out of ourselves for us. We can follow good advice from other people and putting it into practice will enable us to take the high-way.

The next two hours, viz., 4:30 to 6:30 were spent in various ways. Some of the boys went swimming at the "Y" plunge, and others spent part of the time finding out where they were to spend the night, and part of the time looking over the town.

The meeting at 6:30 opened with another banquet in the Masonic Temple. We again enjoyed the fine music of the Hi-Y orchestra and the fine eats prepared by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

The opening talk was given by "Daddy Robertson" of the S. B. U. H. S. The main elements, or the essential things, in this life are: clean speech, clean living, and clean scholarship. This was told by the captain of the Dartmouth College football team, a member of the Phi Beta Kappa.

The home, the city, the state and the nation are looking to the future generation for the men of to-morrow. Are we going to disappoint them?

We were very well entertained by C. Merle Waterman of Hollywood, who told some very humorous stories. He is an excellent pianist and gave us a number of mirth provoking selections.

He is also an excellent ventriloquist and with the aid of his negro dummy put on a clever dialogue. In addition he gave us some fine vocal selections.

We had a number of talks from boys of the different delegations on the following subjects: Highway in Speech, Highway in Living, Highway in Sports, Highway in Scholarship.

The main address was given by Albert Roberts, Secretary Town and Country Work, National Council Y. M. C. A., New York City. He talked to us on the subject of "The Highway."

Are we measuring up to what is expected of us? If we put into practice that which we hear at these conferences we can't help but go back better than we were before, with a greater sight into the future and ready to help other fellows whenever possible.

Directly after this meeting all of the boys and leaders left for the homes to which they were assigned for the night.

On Sunday morning we again met together at the Masonic Temple, where we sang, and heard a very interesting talk by Rev. Fred B. Trotter on "The Forks in the Road."

Many times it is up to us to decide which road to take. If we find we have been led the wrong way, get back on the High-way again as quickly as possible. His talk dealt mainly with the hard things we would come up against in life and the way we would have to face them.

At 10:45 each delegation was assigned a special service to attend. After the church service we again gathered at the Masonic Temple for the closing meeting of the conference. It opened with lunch served by the High School girls. Each delegation gave its separate yells and believe me there were many of them.

The closing address of the conference was given by Harry O. Hill, State Secretary, Y. M. C. A. His subject was "Forward Looks."

I think the main thought of his address was this: we have to choose our way now, and if it's the Highway, as it should be, we have to look forward to the time when we will be at the helm of this nation, when we'll be men.

We formed a circle, joined hands, and sang "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," and then the fourth annual conference of the Central Coast District ended.

INTERCLASS TRACKMEET

The interclass track meet was held on Friday the 12th, the Seniors winning the meet with a score of 57½ points. The Sophomores were second with a score of 38 points; Frosh, third, with 23½ points; and the Juniors, last with 22 points.

The afternoon was given over to the meet and a large crowd from the High School and town was on hand. The day was a little warm, but very good for the meet. Several good reports were made and the meet was a real success—for the Seniors.

Orvis Hotchkiss was high point man of the day. He made five firsts and one third, or a total of 28 points made for the Sophs, besides being on the winning Sophomore relay team. Orvis made a good showing and with a little more training he ought to be among the winners in the conference meet. Hotchkiss was first in the 100-yd. 220-yd. dash, 220-yd. low hurdles, 60-yd. high hurdles, broad jump; and time being 55.9. This race was slow as Lumley was not pushed very hard at any time. Speers, Soph, was second; Sinclair, Frosh, third; C. E. Miller, Senior, fourth. Speers made a good run and with practice will make a good runner.

The 60-yard high hurdles was won by Hotchkiss, his time being 10.1. Traver, Junior, was second; Davis, Senior, third; H. Perry, Senior, fourth. Hotchkiss also won the 220-yd. low hurdles, his time being 29.3. Traver, Junior, second; Gings, Junior third; R. Perry, Frosh, fourth.

The 220-yd. dash was won by Hotchkiss. Time, 25.2. Davis, Senior, and Sinclair, Frosh, tied for second place. Demarest, Frosh, took fourth place.

Lumley took the 880-yd. run, his time being 2 minutes 26½ seconds. Speers, Frosh, second; Reed, Senior, third; Bradley, Soph, fourth.

Hotchkiss took the broad jump with a jump of 19 ft. 5 in. Traver, Junior,

SAN LUIS HI WINS MEET

The San Luis High School won the Invitational Track Meet held at Poly last Saturday. Poly gave them a "run for their money," but the High School won with a score of 64½ to Poly's 61½. Paso Robles High School came in third with 15½ points. Arroyo Grande was fourth with 7 points, and Templeton fifth with 5 points.

The meet was full of thrilling and close races, especially between the Poly and San Luis teams. The High School had more entries in the different events than Poly and were able to grab off all but first place in most events. Nearly all of the Poly entrants showed up well and quite a few of the men won their letter and some won a star. This in itself speaks well for the Poly team.

The high point man of the day was Hotchkiss of Poly, with a total of 16½ points. Hotchkiss won the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, broad jump and was a member of the winning relay team. Lumley came next in the list with 13½ points. He took first in the 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, third in the discus, and was on the winning relay team. Lee of Poly was next with 13 points. Lee took first in the javelin and discus, and second in the shot put. Murray of San Luis was next high point man with 11 points. This speaks well for Poly in having the three high point men of the meet.

Medals were given out to the winner of first place in each event and to the winning relay team. This gave every man something to work for besides his letter at school.

The 440-yard dash was won by Lumley. Odonever of Paso Robles was second; Murray, San Luis, third; and Bradley, Poly, fourth. Lumley took the lead from the beginning and won with ease.

Hotchkiss won the 100-yard dash with a good lead over Louis of San Luis, who was second. The time for the 100-yd. dash was 10.6. Balentine, Paso Robles, was third and Davis of Poly, fourth.

Smith of Paso Robles walked away with the mile. He got the lead in the beginning of the race and held it to the finish. His time was 4:58. Wright, San Luis, was second; Talley, San Luis, was third; and Loomis Arroyo Grande, fourth.

Assembly March 17

The assembly given on Wednesday of last week has the distinction of being the first professional assembly given in Poly this year.

The Dixie Jubilee Singers entertained us with a varied program consisting of readings, solos, quartets, banjo and ukelele solos.

The program consisted of the following numbers: "Way Down Home," sung by the quartet. "Carry Me Back to Ol' Virginia," banjo duet. "Old Black Joe," solo with quartet on chorus. "Oh, Mary, Don't Yo' Weep," quartet. "Alice, Where Art Thou," quartet. "Till We Meet Again," ukelele solos by Mr. Bennett. "When Malinda Sings," reading. "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "My Leonora," "Farewell," banjo solos by Mr. Bennett. "Fry," quartet. "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," quartet. The Dixie Jubilee Singers were Adams, San Luis, won the shot put. Lee, Poly, was second; Carter, San Luis, third; and Smalling, Templeton, fourth.

Lee, Poly, won the javelin throw. Willet, San Luis, was second; Adams, San Luis, was third; and Carter, San Luis, fourth. The javelin throw was one of the things that lost the meet for Poly. Our getting only five points in this to San Luis' seven points put us in the hole.

Johnson, San Luis, took first place in the 220-yard low hurdles. Freeman, San Luis, was second; Boardman, Paso Robles, third; and Davis, Poly, fourth.

Lumley took the 880-yard run with ease. Wright, San Luis, was second; Bradley, Poly, third; and Danille, Paso Robles, fourth.

Murray, San Luis, and Woods, Paso Robles, tied for first place in the high jump at 5 feet 8 inches. Richmond, San Luis; Davis, Poly and Traver, Poly, tied for third place.

Murray, San Luis, was first in the 70-yard high hurdles. Traver, Poly, was second; Gist, San Luis, was third; and Gings, Poly, fourth.

Hotchkiss won the 220-yard dash with Louis, San Luis, second; Sinclair, Poly, was third, and Taylor, Paso Robles, was fourth.

Carroll and Chlentson, San Luis, tied for first place in the pole vault. Adams, San Luis, Pool, Paso Robles; Pugh, Paso Robles; and Harris, Poly, tied for third place.

Hotchkiss won the broad jump with a jump of 20 feet 9 inches. Cheney, Templeton, was second; Bennett, Arroyo Grande, third; and Balentine, Paso Robles, fourth.

Lee, Poly, won the discus throw. Carter, San Luis, was second; Lumley, Poly, was third; and Elliot, San Luis, fourth.

Both Poly and San Luis entered two teams in the 880-yard relay race. Poly's first and second teams won first and second places. San Luis was third, and Templeton fourth. The winning team was made up of Hotchkiss, Lumley, Davis and Sinclair.

There was a good sized crowd in attendance and they saw a good meet. This meet is the only one in which Poly will enter.

more than welcome and as this is their second performance here the student body knew them and how good they were so most of the students attended the assembly.

Changes in Office

Mr. Atkinson, lately the school accountant, has accepted a position as manager of the Union Feed Company. We wish him success in his new work but regret his leaving us.

Mr. Lynn Broughton, who has recently had charge of the Power House has been advanced to the position left open in the office. He will also retain his duties in connection with the school supplies. Lynn is an alumnus of the school and will, we are sure, succeed in his new duties.

Donald Fulwider, a graduate of the class of '25, has accepted the position as day operator of the Power House.

Lumley made a good showing for the Seniors with 18 points to his credit in the meet. He took first in the mile run, 880-yd. dash and 440-yd. dash, and third in the discus throw.

The Seniors grabbed every point in the mile run by winning all four places. Lumley was first; McMillan, second; W. Lee, third; Reed, fourth. Spindola came in third but was disqualified because he cut in on the corners. This one race gave the Seniors eleven points.

Good time was made in the 100-yd. dash by Hotchkiss. He was first, his time being 10.4 seconds. This is good time considering that the track was not in its best condition. Davis, Senior, was second; Zanolli, Soph, third; Gings, Junior, fourth. Davis and Zanolli had a hard fight for second place with Davis winning in the last few feet of the race.

Lumley won the 440-yd. dash, his second; Zanolli, Soph, third; Gings, Junior, fourth.

G. Elliott, Senior, won the shot put with a heave of 38 ft. 9 in. T. Lee, Senior, second; Hotchkiss, Soph, third; Marseleck, Frosh, fourth.

The high jump was won by Traver, Junior, at 5 ft. 2 in. Davis, Senior, second; R. Perry, Frosh, third; Charles and Harris, Frosh, tied for fourth place.

G. Elliot, Senior, and R. Isola, Frosh, tied for first place with a jump of 10 ft. Harris, Frosh, third; Bandhauer, Soph, fourth.

T. Lee, Senior, won the discus throw with a heave of 102.7 ft. Christiansen, Junior, second; Lumley, Senior, third; Traver, Junior, fourth.

By winning this meet the Seniors are well on their way towards winning the interclass trophy. The Seniors have won both the interclass basketball and interclass track meet which gives them a good lead.

plays on either side.

Tuesday evening the Seniors and Juniors played. The team that won will play the Frosh for the school championship.

The Seniors have a very good chance with Lee to pitch for them.

Sophs vs. Frosh

The first game of the inter-class baseball series was played Monday evening between the Sophomores and Freshmen.

The Freshmen came out on top with a score of 13-5. The game was very slow and there were very few good

Trip To The Conference

After a number of unavoidable delays, such as waiting for Steiner, Dr. Crandall and the five musketeers roared out of San Luis Obispo close to 7:30 A. M., Saturday. The rest having left about 6:30 A. M. in Ralph Bells galloping velocipede which incidentally, we passed at Gaviota Pass without further hesitation. We arrived at Santa Barbara near 11:00 a. m. and immediately journeyed to the beautiful Santa Barbara High School and registered, however, we first obtained our meal tickets. In the mean time, Bell and his five or six horsemen were trying to find their way through Santa Barbara to reach the high school. They told us they went to some kind of a place to change their some kind of a place to change their clothes, but we all still believe they got lost. They finally arrived at the High School about 12 p. m.

The Conference opened most appetizingly and enjoyably with a fine banquet in the cafeteria at the High School. The only catastrophe that occurred at that meal was that Chet was called away from his meal for a moment for a committee meeting, and, as luck would have it, it was just the time when the cute little Santa Barbara High School waitresses were serving the desert (pie and ice cream) and just because he didn't have a dish at his plate when he came in, and was too bashful to ask for some, poor Chester went without and we've heard of it about ten times a day ever since.

We then had a mass meeting in the main auditorium, where we listened to some of the best speakers in the state interested in boy's work. Among the speakers was "Doc" Morrow who has charge of "Y" work in Orange County.

When this meeting drew to a close a good number of the fellows went to the Y. M. C. A. and went in swimming, while others whiled away their time in other ways. We spent a good while trying to find where we were going to stay and looking the town over. (The town wasn't all we looked at either.)

At six-thirty we went to the Masonic Temple where we had another very appetizing meal (this time Chet didn't miss his ice cream). Following the banquet various talks were given, also excellent entertainment by Merle Watson of Hollywood.

After the meeting we wended our way homeward via one of Santa Barbara's classy street cars which we liked so much that we stayed on it for fourteen blocks. Ask Buck why he liked the car so much.

We found the house in which we were to abide for the night, and after talking for a few minutes we went to bed—at Chet's suggestion, then we got him up at 8 o'clock at my suggestion, instead of 8:30. We ate breakfast and bade our hostess goodbye, walked up a street and stopped a street car and rode back the same fourteen blocks we rode out. McMillan was the only one that didn't; he got off a block too soon and therefore had to walk an extra block.

We went to the Masonic Temple again, where we heard a mighty fine talk by Rev. Fred Trotter of Santa Barbara. The theme of the conference was "The Highway," and all these talks were built around that one subject.

After this meeting, each delegation was appointed a special church service which they were to attend. After church we went again to the Masonic Temple and had lunch. The closing address was given by Harry Hill, who was a baseball player on the All South American team and knew how

Juniors Win Handball

The Juniors won the interclass handball tournament by winning the majority of their games. The Juniors gave the other classes a good run and easily won the tournament.

The games won by the different classes and their percentages are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Juniors	20	5	800
Seniors	11	11	500
Frosh	9	13	409

to play the game and played it square.

Directly after the conference, to our great regret, we started homeward. We met a great many cars that were interesting in more than one respect—ahem—yes, we passed a few too, but, oh my! Don Price and Chet were holding down the front seat and several times almost climbed over into the back seat—just to be a little closer. I don't see how Dr. Crandall could drive with them in the same seat with him.

After we were well out in the open country Dr. Crandall began to open the ol' Dodge up a little, after a few minutes we sighted a speed cop who evidently was holding the speed limit. After following him closely for several miles Dr. Crandall wanted to pass, however, he was a little afraid, finally he thought up a plan though he didn't tell us. We rode up alongside the cop and Dr. Crandall told Chet to ask him to give thirty-five so we could test out the speedometer which he did. After that speed he slowed up again and Dr. Crandall slowly but surely rode by.

We arrived home at six p. m., taking just three and one half hours to make the trip.

Andy Miller told me that Bell's Ford threatened to burn up a limarling on him, so he petted it up for a few hours and it gave up the threat. They say that "Krames" seemed in a sort of a daze all the way back, and when he was asked what was wrong he said that it was so long since he had seen Shirley that he was home sick. Outside of these few incidents, everything seems to have come along alright. They arrived home some where near midnight, at least Andy Miller says he didn't get to bed till that time.

Ask any of the fellows that took the trip and they surely will tell you that they had a good time!

Senior Rifle Shoot

The Senior rifle shoot was a decided success. It looks as though they have a very good chance for the class championship. The shoot was held on February 27, and a good many turned out.

It was quite windy in the early part of the day but later on it calmed down. The ones who shot first had quite a little difficulty because of the uneven wind. However, they made very good scores even with this handicap.

The shoot consisted of slow and rapid fire at 200 yards in the prone position.

The scores were very good as the following table will show. Louis was the high point man of the day in rapid fire, making five bulls-eyes in succession, making a possible. As the wind came up before he was through his score dropped a little. Perry did the best shooting in slow fire with a score of 46.

Name	200 yds. s.f.	200 r.f.	total
Louis	48	47	90
Perry H.	46	48	89
Hansen	44	44	88
Anholm	48	40	88
Davis C.	40	42	82
Miller W.	41	39	80
Reed	37	43	80
Lee W.	44	28	72
Cavanaugh	32	36	68

870 862 782

With all these good scores showing up for the Seniors, it looks as if they stand a very good chance of taking the championship. The Juniors have made some very good scores but all the men on the Senior team have had more experience and are very confident of success.

Miss Haskin: Don't you think absolutely is a much overworked word?
Bud Poynter: Absolutely!
